

Surrey Contracting: meeting pack, 30 September 2026

Prepared by Ed for Jason. Covers Surrey Contracting only. Surrey Hills Surfacing is a separate note. Every figure below was pulled on 29 September from the source named next to it. Where something could not be measured, it says so.

1. In five lines

- The website rebuild is complete and live: 26 pages, four town pages, an areas page, two guides, corrected company details, structured data passing Google's validator.
- Ads have cost about £5,000 in 90 days across three campaigns. Genuine enquiries in the inbox over the same period: 19 forms. Phone calls are not measured.
- Organic search is not yet delivering. The site is young, the new pages are one to two weeks old, and Surrey Contracting is not on page one for its main terms today.
- The Google Business Profile was removed by Google on or about 24 September. A new one was created on 29 September and needs your video tomorrow.
- Four decisions are yours to make in this meeting. They are listed in section 7.

2. What the monthly fee covers

Fee: [ED: amount and what it includes].

Delivered since the August plan, all live on surreycontracting.co.uk:

Date	Work
20 Aug	Surfacing removed from the site, redirects in place, three surfacing case studies unpublished
11 Sep	Homepage rebuilt around the questions people search, company number corrected everywhere, accreditation strip, FAQ and business schema
14 to 16 Sep	Town pages for Guildford, Woking, Weybridge and Epsom, Areas We Cover page with map, guides on demolition cost and groundworks planning
22 Sep	Building control terminology corrected, spacing and spelling fixes, your audit brief checked page by page against the live site
Ready	Asbestos wording changed to coordination through licensed specialists across five pages, goes live on release

Ongoing under the fee: hosting and deployment, monitoring, Search Console, structured data checks, this monthly pack from October.

3. Ads: what they cost and what they bring in

Source: Google Ads account 437-958-2050, read on 29 September through the reporting connector. Figures are the last 90 days to 29 September.

Campaign	Type	Status	Started	Spend	Clicks	Cost per click	Recorded conversions
Main	Search	paused	6 Jul	£1,759	653	£2.69	8
search	Search	live	11 Aug	£1,232	95	£12.97	1
pmax	Performance Max	live	17 Aug	£1,987	1,651	£1.20	67
Total				£4,978

Last 30 days: pmax £1,886 and 61 conversions, search £1,142 and 1 conversion. Current run rate is roughly £3,000 a month.

What "conversions" means here, because the headline numbers do not mean what they look like:

Campaign	What was counted	Number
pmax	Phone number tapped on the site (a GA4 event, not a call)	50
pmax	Form started, not sent	8
pmax	Form sent	6
pmax	Calls from the ad itself	3
search	Form started, not sent	1
Main	Form sent	7
Main	Website call	1

So of 76 recorded conversions, 17 are completed forms or calls. The rest are taps and half-filled forms. Performance Max is being told to chase phone taps, so it finds phone taps.

The search campaign has spent £1,232 for one started form in seven weeks, at £13 a click against £2.69 on the paused campaign. Its groundworks ad is currently first on Google for "groundworks contractor surrey" from Woking, with the copy "Self-delivered, audited every job, £10m PLI" and a "Fixed-Price Quotation" sitelink. Every claim in an ad needs to be true. Please confirm the £10m public liability figure, and whether you want to promise fixed-price quotations.

The commercial surfacing ad group inside that campaign exists, has ads written ("Public Sector Surfacing", "Surfacing For Schools"), has had one impression, and its landing page has been built on contact.surreycontracting.co.uk. It bids on "car park surfacing", which the SHS account already bids on. Decision in section 7.

4. Enquiries: what actually arrived

Source: the website enquiry emails in the inbox, 1 July to 28 September. Tests and one spam submission removed, one duplicate counted once, one subcontractor offering its services excluded.

Month	Genuine form enquiries
July	8
August	7
September (to 28th)	4
Total	19

- By service: groundworks 12, demolition 3, other or unspecified 4.
- By type: 16 private householders, 3 trade or commercial (a managing agent, an estate, a roofing firm).
- By area: 8 inside the core Surrey patch, 11 outside it (south and south east London, Croydon, Bracknell, Ascot, Morden, Harrow, Hampshire).
- Two said they found the site through Google. Most did not say.

Phone enquiries are not counted anywhere. The site has no call tracking number, so the calls the ads and the site generate are invisible. This is the biggest gap in knowing what the spend brings in, and it is cheap to close.

Cost per genuine form enquiry, if every one of the 19 came from ads, which they did not: £262. The real figure is higher.

5. Organic search: where it stands

Source: live Google results from Woking on 29 September, and a third-party ranking index.

- "groundworks contractor surrey": Surrey Contracting appears only as the paid ad. Not in the top 20 organic results.
- "demolition contractors surrey": not in the top 20. The local pack shows Surrey Demolition, GH Demolition and J Searle.
- The third-party index has the domain ranking for seven terms in the UK, all on page three or lower, with an estimated one organic visit a month. Its data is from July and August, before the new pages, so it understates the current position, but not by much yet.

Why: the domain is young, the pages that target these terms went live between 14 and 22 September, and Google has not yet re-indexed all of them. Two things are needed before organic can do the work the ads are doing: time, and proof pages. The proof pages depend on you (section 9).

One competitor to know about: Surrey Hills Contracting Ltd, a demolition and enabling contractor in Camberley with a Google profile created on 15 September, now takes the top local result for a search of your own company name. A verified Surrey Contracting profile is the only fix for that.

6. Google Business Profile

What happened: on 20 August Google asked for video verification after the address change to Send. The profile stayed unverified for five weeks at the old Effingham address, the same address as the verified SHS profile. Google removed it as a duplicate on or about 24 September. Nobody deleted it and no video was ever submitted, so nothing was there to defend it.

What is done: a new profile for Surrey Contracting Limited at Unit 3, Tannery House, created on 29 September. Excavating contractor, demolition contractor and construction company as categories. 01483 number. No surfacing, paving or road services on it anywhere. You are on it as an owner.

What it needs: your video from the yard tomorrow morning, then it goes public once Google approves it, usually within a few days. After that, photos of real work and the first genuine reviews from clients who are happy to be asked.

7. Decisions for you

1. Positioning. You said both: developers, builders and main contractors first, suitable residential kept. The enquiry data says the site currently brings in householders, more than half from outside the patch. Agreeing "both" means agreeing what we say no to. Proposal: keep the residential pages and form, stop bidding on residential terms outside Surrey, and rewrite demolition and earthworks for commercial buyers.
2. Commercial surfacing. Which business owns it. If SHS, the ad group and its landing page come out of the Surrey Contracting account. If Surrey Contracting, it goes on the main site openly and the SHS account stops bidding on car park terms. Today's arrangement, where the main site says no surfacing and a subdomain says the opposite, is the worst of both.
3. One definition of a lead. Form sent, or a call. Phone taps and started forms become secondary. Applies to both accounts so every report means the same thing.
4. Who owns what. The Google Ads account left my manager account on 9 September. The Business Profile should have you as primary owner and both agencies as managers, so it survives any change of supplier. Same for the Ads account.

8. Recommended extra work, with cost and why

Costs to be confirmed by Ed. Nothing here starts without your yes.

Work	Why	Cost
Call tracking number on the site and in the ads	Calls are the missing half of the enquiry count. Without it nobody can say what the ads bring in	[ED]
Conversion tracking cleanup in Google Ads and GA4	Stops counting taps and half-forms as leads, gives Performance Max a real target	[ED]
Demolition and earthworks page rewrites	The two oldest pages on the site, written for householders, with no case study behind demolition at all	[ED]
Four case studies from your project forms	The single biggest factor in ranking for commercial terms and in converting commercial visitors	[ED]
Business Profile build-out and a reviews routine	Local pack visibility for "near me" searches, currently zero	[ED]
Monthly one-page report	Answers "what am I paying for" without asking	included

Not recommended: any further location pages until there is real work in those towns to show, and any link buying.

9. What I need from you

- Tomorrow: the verification video from the yard.

- This week: the Esher demolition facts, outstanding since 20 August. Client type, scope, what was hard, outcome, rough dates. Bullets are fine.
- This week: a completed Guildford groundworks job, so the patio can come off the Guildford page.
- Next two weeks: three or four projects on the form I sent, with photos.
- In writing: the £10m public liability figure, and whether fixed-price quotations are something you offer.
- A yes or no on each of the four decisions above.

10. Targets and review dates

By	Target	How measured
10 Oct	Business Profile verified and public, asbestos wording live, call tracking live, conversion definitions agreed	Visible on Google, on the site, in Ads
31 Oct	Every enquiry counted, forms and calls, with source. First monthly report	Report
30 Nov	Esher and three further case studies live. Demolition and earthworks pages rewritten. Surrey Contracting in the local pack for at least one core term from Woking	Live pages, Google
31 Jan	Page one organic for at least two of: groundworks contractor Surrey, demolition contractors Surrey, groundworks Woking, groundworks Guildford. Ads spend reviewed against counted leads	Search Console, report

If the January target is missed the review is on the approach, not on more spend.

11. The monthly update

One page, first week of each month, covering: what went live, enquiries by source and type (forms and calls), ad spend and cost per counted lead, organic movement on the tracked terms, Business Profile views and calls, what is planned next, what is needed from you. No jargon and no numbers that cannot be traced to a source.
